

The Daily News.

TUESDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 13, 1866.

The San Antonio Herald says the headquarters of the Department of Texas will be removed by General Houtzelman from Galveston to San Antonio, on account of the operations on the border.

The Board of Education of New York have voted to approve the report of its finance committee, already published, appropriating $2,522,000 for the support of schools during the year 1867.

The foreign papers speak of the continued illness of Count Bismarck, which they describe as a prostration, accompanied by loss of appetite. Private letters so far confirm this, as to speak of an attack of paralysis.

The Texas Legislature has got through its business, and is ready to adjourn. Nearly all the important acts have already been passed, such as the stay law, the laws reorganizing the District Courts, the Supreme Court and the County Courts, an apprenticeship law, a law governing labor contracts, &c.

The votes which have been thus far taken in the several Annual Conferences of the Southern Methodist, indicate the ratification, by a large majority of the proposed change of the name of the Church to Episcopal Methodist Church, and the proposed introduction of lay representation into the General Conference.

The health of Prince Pierre Napoleon Bonaparte has lately caused some uneasiness to his friends. Having been suffering from cholera, he was operated upon at Aix-la-Bains, but without effect. On his return to Autenil Dr. Nelson again performed an operation, and hopes are now entertained that the Prince will soon be convalescent.

King Victor Emmanuel has just instituted a new order of knighthood, to be called the Order of the Leone di St. Marco, according to some; that of the Italian Lion, according to others. It is to take rank immediately after the Order of the Annunziata, which last is only given to crowned heads, members of reigning houses, and generalisimos.

We learn from Le Moniteur that cholera has been very virulent in Belgium. Official statistics just published state that from the commencement of the epidemic to the 15th of September, the number of attacks have been 49,558, and the number of deaths 27,940, or more than half the total number attacked. The population of Belgium is 4,940,070, so that the scourge has carried off 1-87 per cent. of the inhabitants.

One Herr Rielinger, an architect, asked an audience of the Duke of Hesse-Darmstadt, his sovereign. His behavior awakening suspicion he was arrested, searched, and found in possession of a long double-edged knife. In his rage he stabbed one of the police with it. He is supposed that he had intended murdering the Duke, whose Austrian leanings seem to have excited his revenge.

In Maine the squirrels, red and gray, are more numerous and bolder this year than ever before within the memory of the oldest inhabitants. The scarcity of acorns in the woods, or the prospect of a severe winter, or something else, drives them into towns and villages. The farmers complain bitterly of their depredations. They gnaw holes through the roofs and sides of their buildings, and make themselves a nuisance generally.

A Louisville dispatch of the 8th instant says: The train leaving here at five o'clock yesterday afternoon for Nashville, was maliciously thrown off the track at Sinking Creek. The engineer was badly hurt, and at last accounts the fireman had not been found. The Adams Express car, baggage car and smoking car were burned, and the passengers are said to have been generally robbed. No passengers injured.

The records of the Commissioners of Emigration show that during the month of October 19,80 passengers arrived at the port of New York, 14,377 of whom came by steamers, and 4703 by sailing vessels. Nine thousand of the number were from Germany and about 8000 from Liverpool. Sixteen hundred came from Illinois, 500 to Massachusetts, 600 to Michigan, 600 to Missouri, 685 to New Jersey, 1817 to Ohio, 2214 to Pennsylvania, 567 to Wisconsin, and 8471 have remained in New York. None came South. Why?

The Yale catalogue for the new college year is just out. Its summary of students is as follows: In theology, 30; in law, 26; in medicine, 31; in philosophy and arts, 122; total 209. Seniors, 101; juniors, 115; sophomores, 139; freshmen, 152—total, 507, aggregate, 722. The libraries of the college, exclusive of the 2500 volumes of the Oriental Society, contain 77,500 books, besides a large number of pamphlets. The faculty and instructors of the college consist of the president, a library-five professors, nine tutors, four instructors, a librarian, and a demonstrator of anatomy.

Most Deplorable Ignorance.—A recent issue of the British Quarterly Review contains the following astounding—nay, almost incredible revelations of the ignorance which exists among some sections of the British community:

In Birmingham thirty-two persons, averaging more than twelve years of age, including a young man of twenty, and two young women, could not tell the Queen's name. The commonest and simplest object of nature, such as flowers, birds, fishes, mountains and the sea, were unknown. Some thought London was a country, one that it was in the exhibition; a violet was said to be a pretty bird; a primrose a red rose; like also a bird; but whether a robin or an eagle were birds none could say; some knew not what a river meant, or where snow comes from; and a cow in a picture was pronounced to be a lion. Many of these poor creatures had never seen a primrose by the river's brim, or heard the song of the lark.

The editor of the Manitowoc Tribune has been in Milwaukee, and in his paper of the 1st inst. says:

Never were we more impressed with the prosperity of the State than we were a day or two ago in Milwaukee. The improvement going on there is really astonishing and it enforces the belief that Wisconsin is to be one of the greatest States in the Union; for cities seldom go ahead of the surrounding country—they are generally behind. Here are a few figures showing the growth of the amounts expended on new buildings during the present year:

Rolling mill.....	$300,000
1 flour mill.....	150,000
3 flour mills.....	150,000
2 breweries.....	100,000
2 distilleries.....	80,000
1 block (head).....	45,000
1 church (Baptist).....	35,000
6 churches.....	75,000
28 business blocks on East Water street.....	600,000
1,000 private residences, from $500 to $20,000 each.....

This is a fair showing for the City of Bricks. We hope her prosperity may never be less.
